---Kangjian Community, Xuhui District, Shanghai

March 30th, 2012

WHO Collaborating Centre on Community Safety Promotion (CCCSP):

Kangjian Community, located in the southwest of Xuhui District in Shanghai, is a new and pure residential area built in the early 1980s, covering an area of 4.07 square kilometers. Inside the community, there are 25 neighborhood committees, 27870 registered households (80662 residents in all) and 11289 migrants. There are also 6 colleges and universities including Shanghai Normal University, Shanghai Institute of Technology, Shanghai Municipal Institute of CCP and so on as well as 11 primary and middle schools including Shanghai World Foreign Language Middle School, Shanghai World Foreign Language Primary School, etc. It has 2 medical institutions—a community health service center and Xuhui Maternity and Child Health Care Center, and 5 standardized community health service stations.

Kangjian Community is a civilized community denominated by the Central Committee of Civilization as “Demonstration Site of National Civilized Community” and a advanced community obtaining the title of “National Advanced Unit for Aging Population” as well as Shanghai “Model Sub-district of Health Promoting Community”. In 2011, it was rated as the advanced community in Shanghai for its work of correction, the Model Sub-district of General Management of the City Environment and the Civilized Community of Shanghai.

Kangjian Sub-district was designated as the experimental unit to build a safe community from 2003 to 2005 by the Division of Patriotic Health Supervision and Inspection in August 2003 and by the State Administration of Work Safety Supervision in 2006 respectively. In 2007, it was designated as the National Safe Community by the State Administration of Work Safety Supervision and the International Safe Community by WHO. During these five years, the Sub-district Party Working Committee and the Sub-district Office, aiming at promoting “Safe Environment, Safety concepts and Safety Services for Everyone”, have conducted the prevention and control of injury according to the actual needs of the residents regarding accidental injury caused by physical exercises and injury of the elderly and children, etc. Through persistent exploration and practice, our sub-district has formed the mode of establishing a safe community featuring “domination of the government, multi-cooperation, integration of resources, service for the masses, harmony and stability”.

It is our commitment that we will continue to promote the construction of the Kangjian Safe Community. Therefore, Kangjian Sub-district is sincerely applying for the certification of WHO CCCSP. We will persistently carry forward the construction of the safe community under the guidance of WHO CCCSP and choose a certifying center to recertify our community with the support of COSHA.
